MYTH:
HIV infection can be spread by mosquitoes.

FACT:
There are no documented cases of anyone contracting HIV from mosquito bites. There is an insufficient viral load and the mosquito’s blood is not compatible with the virus.