

Hello! And welcome, to SUNY Potsdam College Libraries' Information Literacy Tutorials. This is the Ins and Outs of Research tutorial.

If you are a new student, you are likely encountering all kinds of new experiences, responsibilities, and challenges. One aspect of college life that is sure to be different—the coursework.

Many new students make the incorrect assumption that college-level coursework requires the same amount of effort as high school-level coursework.

In reality, college-level coursework requires a great deal more effort. It also requires the use of great research skills that aren't typically taught in high school. You will begin to develop your research skills in this tutorial.

This tutorial focuses on the research process, beginning your research, using research tools, results evaluation, and citing sources. If you are looking for the Understanding Information tutorial click here.

If you are looking for the Web Resources and Evaluation tutorial click here.